Minister Tells Story of Life at Gleichen 34 Years Ago

Looking over the many letters read at the twentieth anniversary of the building of the new United Church in Gleichen it is found that the Rev. R. S. Scott, now residing at Cannington, Ontario, has the distinction of being the premier old-timer, coming to Gleichen as student missionary in 1894, who starts off with:

"Let me say that the request gives me a great deal of pleasure, not only that I am permitted to send greetings to rejoicing brethren, but that after so many years there are still some who remember me and still seem to remember with appreciation my poor services among them in the Kingdom, for I was a callow youth but on my first mission field."

In those days the Gleichen field paid its way and I had always money to turn in.

"Gleichen!!! What it meant in those days."

"In my day I had a pass over 195 miles with privileges of both express and freight trains, from Nair, at the top of the hill west of Medicine Hat to Cochrane, nestling just under the Rockies. Yes, Gleichen was some field in those good old days."

"On Sundays services were held at Gleichen and Crowfoot Creek, and at Shepherd, Langdon and Cochrane were held during the week days. Shepherd was the only place that had a church. Most of the other places were but section houses. Here are some of them I can remember: Cluny, Lathom, Cassils, Rainmoir, Stair, (off the map now I think) Brooks, Bonnell and Tilley. These got services once a month or so, during the week. I preached on an average of four nights a week. There must have been more for I recall I gave services at seventeen points altogether. Bassano in those days was only a siding with a little shack made of old ties."

"Besides these places on the railway I gave services at Rosebud creek where the Vignars, Wisharts, Johnston's and some French-Canadian families lived. In those days there was not a shack for the 35 miles from Gleichen to Rosebud creek."

"I had a pony when I needed one at Gleichen, Langdon, Shepherd and Cochrane, and walk for the most part of that 195 miles. (My but you have an easy time.)"

"My first experience on horse back was on old 'Harmony', a retired R. N. W. M. P. horse of some fame. He will be remembered only by the real old-timers. His favorite stunt was to take me to Bragg's blacksmith shop and try to rub me off against the side of it."

"My first travel by trail was on a buckboard, drawn by a pony also of some fame, loaned me by Dan Martin. By this means my first venture was made outside of Gleichen several times going to Clark's on Crowfoot creek. On Saturday, wishing to visit a family named McNeill further up the creek, crossing the creek several times, though there was not much water in the creek some of the fords were quite wide and about two feet deep. When Mr. Pony hauled me in to one of the deepest and widest he put his head down to drink and one of the trace chains came unhooked from the haems and when the pony started on he pulled partly out of the shafts and then began to kick. The tenderfoot in his panic unhooked the other chain at the whiffletree and let the brute go, there being no breeching or hold back straps. In a moment the pony was on the bank and the ardent missionary marooned in the buckboard in the creek. Thinking the pony would escape the preacher, fully dressed, plunged into the water and captured the pony and finally got him hitched again to the buckboard still in the water. The trip to McNeill's but being somewhere around six feet from shore the preacher was soon off. Returning to Clark's he was soon decked out in dry clothing, hardly very presentable for the pulpit yet in this rig conducted his service Sunday morning in the old log school house in Gleichen. He wrote an account of this experience to the president of his society, who in reply dubbed him "Old-Chief-Legs-Through-His-Pants," and by this name he went to college for many a day.

"During my first year I had a room in Emil Griesbach's house. If Emil is still alive he will remember the day the Indian boy came in when he was out getting some lumber. Emil had his chum just ready to take off when the Indian boy gave it just one turn and Emil's butter and buttermilk was on the kitchen floor. How Emil made the Dutch fly when he returned."

"I could relate many funny incidents, but tell this one. Once walking between Langdon and Patton's I met a tramp who took me for another. He thought I was going to Calgary and told me how I could escape the police there. I returned the compliment and told him how he might dodge the sleuths at Gleichen. Tramps are human and some in those days pure gold and so were the policemen—some of them."

"Those were great days. Often there did not seem to be too much religion, but religion is of more than worship and expressions of devotion. I believe that these ought to be, but then there is a good deal of religion that does not give much expression in acts of devotion. After all pure ritual before God the Father is to visit the fatherless and the widow in their affliction and to himself and unspoil from the world. There was a great deal of this everywhere in those days."

"You ask me when I was in Gleichen. The last time was in 1912, I preached in your church and at Strathmore on my way to assembly at Edmonton. But the first was when the village and the few ranchers about were in a furore amounting to a panic over the shooting of Ration Skinner, and the subsequent killing by rifle shot of the Indian, who was hiding in a clump of bushes. You will be able to locate the date from that. That was a fearsome thing for a kid who had never been away from home before."

"I wish I had more time to recall morning things and to put this into proper form. Before I close I would like to mention some of the oldtimers, about Gleichen—good souls many of them were."

"I wonder how many I can recall; Mr. Dunn, the Olmsteads, oh, how I remember little 'Tough,' whose life went out in an airplane crash. The Martins, Cluny McDonald, Mr. and Mrs. Finnigan, Emil Griesbach, the Wisharts, the Knights, Frank McKay, Walter Foulds, the Beaupres, the Didsbury, Marshall, Wagstaff, Bradon, Miss Boyne the teacher, and after her Boyle, who became minister of education, Miss Anderson, the Fallows, the Braggs, the Services. There are others whose names I cannot recall but to the spot where they lived I could easily go. Oh, yes, and I was nearly going to write his name first; what would the memory of Gleichen be without a thought of Gopher Johnnie."

"I would like to say that no inexperienced ever had a more loyal friend than I had in the person of the late Mrs. Finnigan."

"And after all the world is not so very big—I have in my congregation now a lady who taught near Gleichen—Shamrock—then Miss Staback, now Mrs. McKay of this town, she is the mother of two lovely boys."

"And then for a while we had Mrs. Castle Smith, who lived on the Rosebud and my nearest neighbor is a minister who was in Gleichen a year or two after me—a Scotchman by name of Simpson."

A very important land deal took place out here or rather in Majorville a short time ago when the O'Tott farm was sold to Leslie Long of Queenstown. Mr. O'Tott, who is one of the oldest settlers in the district and one of the most successful ones, left for the southern States a couple of weeks ago accompanied by Mrs. O'Tott.

The Calgary Herald considers Milo and Queenstown important enough to be written up and for that Wm. Dooley, of the Herald, has been spending a few days lately in both towns and district.

John Winkler has made another big purchase in buying the Harry Baker farm east of Milo. This farm is known to have grown some of the best crops in the district. Lately it has been rented to Mrs. Stephenson.

The Alberta Provincial Seed Fair will be held in Edmonton during the week of January 15th, 1929, it is announced by Field Crops Commissioner W. J. Stephen. It is expected that the attendance will include a large number of farmers interested in the production of high quality seed grain, as well as many delegates to the U. F. A. annual convention which is to be held in Edmonton during the same week. Arrangements are being made, as in previous years, to hold the annual meeting of the Alberta Seed Growers' Association at the same time.

Sales of gasoline in Alberta for the first ten months of 1928 have exceeded by some 6,000,000 gallons the sales in any previous year, according to figures issued by the department of the provincial secretary. This increased consumption is attributed to the ever growing use of tractors, grain trucks and combined harvesters in the province as well as the increased number of automobiles licensed during the present year.

A new inter-provincial telephone service was initiated last week when the first telephonic conversations were carried on over the all-Canadian line between Alberta cities and those on the Pacific coast. Previously this connection has had to be made through Cousta, Great Falls, Spokane, Seattle, and thence to Vancouver, and it is expected that the new line will greatly facilitate telephonic communications between points in Alberta and the coast cities.

Community Hall Annual Meeting Thursday, Nov. 22nd

Elsewhere in this issue notice is given that the annual meeting of the Gleichen Community Hall Association will be held at 8 p.m. in the Clubroom on Thursday, November 22nd, to which everyone interested in the hall is especially requested to be present.

That should include every person in and around this town for it concerns one and all—not only those who signed their notes each for $100 as a guarantee that all would make good in seeing the deal through, and it is regrettable that some have practically done little or nothing to aid in this important matter, while others have given most liberally of their time and cash.

It is understood the financial report this year will show a substantial reduction of the indebtedness of the hall account, and it is hoped still further reductions will be made before the new year arrives. Meantime it is up to every citizen who has the best interests of the community at heart to try to accomplish something worth while in this direction.

The committee has had a lot to contend with during the past year and there is now an opportunity to show real appreciation of their work and efforts and the least citizens can do is attend the annual meeting. Be there to boost the committee, the hall and the town. We have all enjoyed the use of the hall at times, whether it be at picture shows, dramas, concerts, lectures or dancing, and now that the end of the payments is in sight let us all get busy and make a grand finish.

ARMISTICE DAY IS OBSERVED HERE

The Armistice Day service held in the Gleichen Community Hall Sunday morning was well attended, the seating capacity being taxed to its utmost.

Rev. Mr. Davies and Capt. P. Maclean, the latter representing the United Church, conducted the service according to the program provided by the Central Committee, while Mr. Davies preached a short sermon. At the close of the service two wreaths were placed upon the monument, one by the veterans and the other by the school children. A procession wended its way to the cemetery where four wreaths were placed, one each for comrades Earl D. McBean, Wm. C. Johnston, Robert Hogan and Mrs. Jowett.

Monday evening some fifty veterans and guests sat down to a bounteous repast with the 22d Battery under the auspices of the Gleichen Branch of the Canadian Legion of the B. E. S. L., which was served by the Ladies Auxilliary of the B. E. S. L. A most pleasant time was spent with toasts, songs, etc. The biggest crowd seen for sometime in the Community Hall attended the dance and spent a most enjoyable time.

The enthusiasm of the citizens of Quebec is so infectious that it is an easy matter to interest visitors in winter sports, stated J. G. Strathdee, winter sports manager of the Chateau Frontenac, in giving a forecast of this winter's programme. Skating, skiing and tobogganing will be in full swing as usual; the dog derby will most certainly take place; and the ice carnival and storming of the citadel will probably be featured again he said. Mr. Strathdee mentioned the splendid co-operation given the winter activities at the Chateau Frontenac by the Quebec Winter Sports Association.

The number of disciples of Isaac Walton, Canadian and American, who have piled rod and reel in Canadian waters during the past season is greater than ever before, states A. D. Seymour, general tourist agent of the Canadian Pacific Railway at Montreal in announcing the winners of the Ontario bungalow camp fishing trophy competitions. Phillip Peterman of Laurium, Michigan, won the Nipigon River contest for speckled trout, Edmund Siechbart of Chicago won the French River "muskey" prize, and Theodore Kipp of Winnipeg caught the largest bass entered in the Devil's Gap camp competition.

England will have enough Canadian apples shortly to keep the doctor away for the next year, if there is any truth in the proverb, as ships sailing for the old country this autumn are carrying many boxes of souvenir apples shipped by Canadians to their friends overseas. This has been the custom for the past few years and according to J. B. Martin, manager of the foreign department of the Canadian Pacific Express Company, it is becoming increasingly popular. So great has been the demand for fresh Canadian apples each autumn for shipment to Europe that grocers throughout the country now have standard size boxes for shipping and special low rates are granted by the express company.

DROPS DEAD FROM HEART TROUBLE

Gleichen folks were shocked late Saturday afternoon to learn that Mr. Sigmund Richard Guttrath had dropped dead at his home in the west end of the town.

He had been troubled with his heart since a young man and had left off work a couple of days previous. He had suffered considerably but refused to have a doctor and kept going about. He had been splitting wood, when he came into the house saying he was ill and started for his bedroom when he fell at the door entrance and expired before Dr. Farquharson arrived.

Deceased was 53 years of age and came from Austria about 16 years ago, and after spending two years in Calgary came to Gleichen with his family and remained here ever since. Besides his widow he leaves to mourn his loss a family of four boys and six girls, namely: Adolph, Mrs. A. C. Ainsie of Calgary, Sigmund, Marion, Rudolph, Josephine, Margaret, John and Mary, the youngest being one year of age on Sunday.

The funeral took place Monday morning from St. Victor's church, where Father Gofelin conducted the service which was attended by a number of friends and relatives. The pallbearers were Messrs. McCaffrey, Menard, Purcell, Ramberg, Greer and McConnell.

Mrs. Guttrath and family desire to express their appreciation of the many kindness shown them in their hour of great bereavement by their neighbors and friends.

A promotion plan is announced by the apple industry. Possibly it will recommend two a day to keep the doctor away.

When Pain Comes

What many people call indigestion very often means excess acid in the stomach. The stomach nerves have been over-stimulated, and food sours. The corrective is an alkali, which neutralizes acids instantly. And the best alkali known to medical science is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. It has remained the standard with physicians in the 50 years since its invention. One spoonful of this harmless, tasteless alkali in water will neutralize instantly many times as much acid, and the symptoms disappear at once. You will never use crude methods when once you learn the efficiency of this. Go get a small bottle to try. Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. Each bottle contains full directions—any drugstore.

Light Beam Produces Music

Expert Could Stop Sound By Blocking Light With His Hand

A narrow beam of light cast about an assembly room in the Hotel Biltmore, at Atlanta, Georgia, was changed into music and held under perfect control at the will of John Bellamy Taylor, consulting engineer of the General Electric Company at Schenectady, N.Y.

The demonstration, given before the American Institute of Electrical Engineers, was made possible through a complicated apparatus by which electrical impulse is controlled by the beam of light, and represented what Mr. Taylor called "narrow castings." The equipment used in the demonstration is known as a photo-phone, built on old principles, Mr. Taylor said, but utilizing the perfected photo-electric tube, electric pick-up and newly developed amplifiers and sound reproducers.

An ordinary phonograph with an intricate electrical attachment was used in producing the music. The electrical energy was sent over a light beam in transforming and reproducing elements mounted on a tripod across the room, and music and sound was the result. When Mr. Taylor would hold up his hand in the path of light the music would stop, and as he allowed the light to filter through his fingers the music increased in volume.

THOUSANDS OF MOTHERS USE NO OTHER MEDICINE

Baby's Own Tablets Are the Ideal Remedy For Babies and Young Children

Canadian mothers are noted for the care they give their little ones—the health of the baby is most jealously guarded and the mother is always on the lookout for a remedy which is efficient and at the same time absolutely safe. Thousands of mothers have found such a remedy in Baby's Own Tablets and many of them use nothing else for the ailments of their little ones. Among them is Mrs. Howard King, of Truro, N.S., who says:—"I can strongly recommend Baby's Own Tablets to mothers of young children as I know of nothing to equal them for little ones."

Baby's Own Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

New Device Records and Reproduces Sound

Is Simplest and Most Practical System Ever Invented

The London Daily Express says that a device has been invented which recorded sound and reproduced it immediately in full volume and with clarity and accuracy.

A short test speech spoken into an ordinary microphone came back with startling distinctness one minute after it was finished. It was recorded on a few inches of magnetized wire. No wax, chemical or other fixing materials were needed.

The device can be attached to a telephone and the entire conversation re-heard immediately after it is finished. The paper said the device was the simplest, cheapest and most practical system of sound reproduction ever invented. It is a development of an invention known to experimenters for 30 years.

Seeking Solution Of Reparations Problem

Question Of Final Settlement Is Before Allies

Germany has acted more quickly than other interested nations as was quite expected, in calling for a new committee of experts to prepare a final solution of the reparations problem. Final settlement means giving the total of Germany's indebtedness which has never yet been done and it would supersede the Dawes scheme of annuities. Germany asks that a new committee should consist of men "untrammeled by official instructions." This means in effect that the scheme would not be settled by representatives of governments but by financiers and economists who would not be chiefly influenced by political considerations. Briand has said quite openly that experts can not be independent of their governments. Every so-called independent expert would be guided by the views and interests of the government that appointed him.

Germany makes it clear that the United States and perhaps other countries that do not receive reparations should participate in the settlement of the problem. Britain must receive sufficient from reparations, plus war debts due from allies, to equal her own payments to America. France also gives warning she is not whittling down her claims on Germany. France demands reparations sufficient to pay her war debts plus an indemnity for devastated areas. Both British and French demands are, strictly speaking, incompatible with the German view that the problem should be solved by "independent" experts but compromise is possible on this point. Germany is anxious to get a settlement, not for economic benefits but to expedite evacuation of the Rhineland and it is supposed France is equally anxious to get ready money to pay off a large amount of American debt. London is wondering whether the United States will join the committee of experts. It is difficult to see how Americans could consent to join if members were direct representatives of their government.

Some Information About Clocks

Need Care and Attention To Keep Good Time

"A lot of folks seem to forget," said the old clockmaker, pushing his steel rimmed specs up over his forehead, "that a clock is a piece of machinery, and as such, it needs a mite o' care an' attention now an' then."

"Now take a pendulum clock" he continued, pointing to one on a shelf over his work-bench—"that clock has been running and keepin' right time for forty years—and why? Firstly a pendulum clock has got to set level. No use to expect it to run right if it don't. And when you hang a pendulum clock on the wall, you got to fix it so's the pendulum hangs straight. Regulatin' a long pendulum is right simple—just means rasin' or lowerin' in' the pendulum ball with a screw of the bottom of the ball. You mightn't think it, but one full turn of that little screw changes that clock's rate o' speed two minutes a day. Faster when you raise the pendulum ball, slower when you lower it."

"With short-pendulum clocks—the kind you see here settin' on shelves, or like it might be a mantel clock, instead of tinkerin' with the pendulum, there's that little gadget projectin' in' through the dial. It's called a 'arbor' an' one full turn will change the clock's rate two minutes a day."

"Clocks with what's called the lever movement ain't so fussy as pendulum clocks—don't need to set just level—but you want to clean an' oil them more frequent than what you do pendulum clocks. The real fine ones you want to clean an' oil every eighteen months—the ones that ain't so expensive can go two years between cleanin'."

"Regulatin' these lever clocks is right simple. It's just changin' the tension of the hairspring with a little lever you'll find on the back, or maybe on the dial—but you don't move that lever no more than one of the notches you'll see marked on the indicator."

"Yes sir," said the old man, "there's plenty of fellows will spend hours an' nights tinkerin' with their radio that wouldn't think to spend maybe fifteen minutes once a year to help the faithful old clock to go on keepin' right an' acc'rate time."

Everyone Should Have Vacation

All Work and No Play Not Good For People

The city dweller has been sold pretty thoroughly on the idea of a yearly vacation. It may be to the shore, to the mountains, to the lake or to the farm—but it is a vacation that puts new blood into his veins and brings the tint of roses to the cheeks of wife and children.

Those who dwell in the great open spaces seldom find time for a vacation. Work, to some extent, makes the man of the home forget his loss, and unfortunately it makes him also lose sight of that look of longing that comes over the face of his better-half as she reads the lures of vacation lands and sees more fortunate friends and neighbors climbing into the family car for a week or ten days "on the road."

Each man owes to himself and to his family to take a vacation. Death comes in due time, and a forced vacation is taken—often many years before it would be necessary were a little play mixed with each year's work.

We can't take our money into the tomb. We can't get all life holds for us by work alone. Now that the crops are in, take a vacation. Go anywhere. Stay two weeks, ten days, one week, or at least for a few days. Use the train, the steamer or the family car. But do something that will be a change and that will bring smiles to both old and young faces that seem to have forgotten how to smile.

Vacation days pass quickly, but vacation remembrances live for an entire year. Take a vacation.—Richard S. Bond.

A Study Of King Edward

Author Gives Vivid Picture Of His Tragic Boyhood

Dr. W. H. Edwards, the author of an interesting study entitled "The Tragedy of Edward VII.," is the London correspondent of the well known German Journal, the Vossische Zeitung. His object, he explains, is to sketch "a man and a politician whose Royal birth was the greatest obstacle to his development." We in this country have long been familiar, of course, with the not too happy circumstances in which the King passed his earlier years. There is plenty of authentic information on the subject in the numerous books dealing with the period, and it is upon this body of literature that Dr. Edwards relies for the data of his clever psychological analysis of the monarch. He has, indeed, given old facts a new setting by his manner of relating them, with the result that we get a portrait of King Edward which must linger in the memory, whatever may be its real historical merits—a point that is obviously somewhat debatable. According to Dr. Edwards, the tragedy of the young prince lay in the amazing restraint forced upon him by his mother, Queen Victoria, and more particularly by his father, the Prince Consort. The prince was "ordered" to write letters to relatives who lived outside of London and Windsor and was forced to keep a diary. "Altogether," says Dr. Edwards, "his exalted parents paid the least imaginable consideration to their son's nervous system, which was anything but strong." Prince Albert's dissatisfaction with the intellectual progress of his son and the latter's resistance to the completion of the education plan provided new sources of friction. The prince was practically interned with his tutor in White Lodge, in Richmond Park. He was not allowed to lounge on seats or couches. His walk must always be erect and he was not allowed to put his hands into his pockets. Jokes in word or deed as well as satirical expressions were forbidden. "Still worse, he was deprived of the guidance and sympathy of the amiable and talented women who had watched over him in his very early years."

Removed Too Soon
"Don't you think these eggs are rather small?" commented the young housewife critically.
"Perhaps," answered the grocer, "but that's the kind the farmers sent me this morning."

"I understand," said the shopper. "That's just the trouble with some farmers. They're so eager to get the eggs to market that they take them off the nest too soon."

A Law-Abiding Land

Sensible Requests By Authorities Obeyed Willingly In England

We came across a tribute to Great Britain as a law-abiding land which is worth quoting. It was contained in an article written by that expert journalist, Herbert Corey, of the Associated Newspapers on his tour in the Motherland. He was giving an account of the prison of Dartmoor, and said that it objected, and properly, to too much over-looking of the prison. Drivers are warned now not to stop their cars in the vicinity and holiday-makers are asked not to use their cameras. Then he adds: "That is equivalent to a command in this law-abiding land. It is extraordinary how soon one gets out of his American habit of cheerful law-breaking. Perhaps because there are fewer laws here and the few are sensibly enforced."

Does this apply as much to Canada as to the Motherland? Are sensible requests by authorities obeyed willingly? For instance do people obey the request not to hurry to fires in their autos, and thus interfere with the efforts of the Fire Department? Do they leave—well, think the subject over.

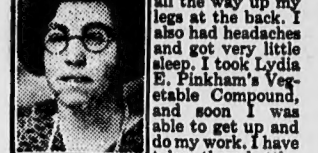

Machine Proves Success

Speaking at a meeting of Penticton fruit growers, W. McL. Cooper, promoter of the nicker-in-the-slot apple-vending machines, said he had installed five machines in cigar stores in Vancouver. In two days these machines had used up five boxes of apples and had shown a net profit of $17 after all expenses had been paid.

MOTHER OF TWINS HELPED

Restored to Health by Taking
Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Mitchell, Ont.—"I had little twin babies and for quite a while after I was so weak I could not do my work because of pains all the way up my legs at the back. I also had headaches and got very little sleep. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and soon I was able to get up and do my work. I have taken three bottles and I am fine, do my work without trouble and am gaining in weight and strength. I will gladly recommend the Vegetable Compound to anyone."

Fresh from his exercises and shower, his cheeks red, his dark eyes shining with the clear glow of health, his step springy and free, Donald was a picture of rugged health and strength. But for all this apparent outward brightness, inwardly he felt rebellious. Douglas's invitation had brought a great longing for the comforts of his past life. Why should he assume the role of a pugilist to eke out an existence? Why wear shabby clothes and even know the pangs of hunger? He had but to wire his father that he was destitute and plenty of money would be forthcoming.

A big steak at "Old Joe's" furnished him a hearty meal. As he selected the money from his meagre supply of cash to pay his check, Old Joe bent his grizzled head forward. "Don't go hungry; come in any time."

"Thanks, Joe," Donald was in a dark mood. He heard the sound of happy laughter coming from a saloon on the corner. There behind those swinging doors was momentary recess from worldly cares. He stood in the door of the restaurant and looked across the inlet at the twin peaks, known as the "Lions," which guard the entrance to Vancouver's harbor. The sun was setting in a mass of fleecy clouds; the clouds became a luminous gauze, and a golden splendor spread over the water. The mountains were suffused in violet, while the snow-fields took on a faint stain of rose. Donald's face glowed as he watched.

"Some country!" he breathed. He turned to catch a friendly smile from Old Joe as he worked over his range. "And some people!" he added fervently.

Once more he turned to the mountains. The glow had vanished and the Lions stood in bold relief against the clear sky. The massive snow-capped peaks seemed to impart a new strength to his being. "I'll get quit I'm going to make good," he said grimly.

CHAPTER III.

While on his daily run around Stanley Park the next afternoon Donald was attracted by a horse and rider standing on Prospect Point. The rider was interested in a huge

MEDICINE FOR YOUNG GIRLS

Mothers Endorse Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Sydney, N. S.—"My seventeen year old daughter took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for weakness and pains. She could not go about much with the other girls as she was not strong enough. We got six bottles and it did her a great turn. She is working out now in a store and walks three miles every morning and back in the evening."—Mrs. MARY VANCE, 44 Lingan Road, Sydney, N. S.

Pinewood, Ont.—"I constantly had pains in my back and side and spent two days in bed every month. I have taken three boxes of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Tablets. They have done me good and I always have them in the house. I have recommended your good medicine to several friends and have given it to my 17 year-old girl."—Mrs. ALFRED OULLETTE, Pinewood, Ontario.

white liner plowing her way through the Narrows, bucking a head tide. The horse, a noble animal, with full mane and tail, was restive, rocking and prancing in his eagerness to be off.

When Donald lifted his eyes to the rider he saw a beautiful, haughty face with skin of a milky whiteness, a heavy mass of dark brown hair, neatly coiffed under a trim riding hat, and a pair of wonderful brown eyes that suddenly grew cold.

A shower of dirt and pebbles stung Donald's face as the horse was swung about as though on a pivot and with its rider was off like a wind.

"A thoroughbred," he exclaimed, as he watched the rider until she turned a corner in the drive. "Two of them! And she thinks I am a low-down masquerader," he added ruefully.

That afternoon he went through fifteen rounds of boxing, finishing strong and fresh to tackle pulleys and punching-bags.

Andy was joyful. "It will never go twenty rounds, me lad. That straight left of yours alone would stop 'im in 'art that time."

"This is my last day of road-work," remarked Donald to his friend on Friday afternoon, as he slipped on his running shoes.

As he and Douglas neared Prospect Point Donald's thoughts turned to the girl of yesterday. "She was haughty as a princess." Unwittingly he had spoken his musings aloud.

"What's that?" queried his companion.

"I was talking to myself," laughed Donald.

"Bad sign! You are either in love or old age has overtaken you. Too bad!" Douglas wagged his head sadly.

"I may as well tell you," confided Donald; "I saw a Greek goddess mounted on an Arabian charger yesterday."

Douglas threw out his hand tragically. "Donald, my poor friend! I am afraid that I hit you too hard in that last round," he said in a voice of mock compassion.

Donald stopped short. "Look!" he cried, pointing excitedly, "there she is!"

"I'll be jiggered!" exclaimed Douglas.

"Don't blame you, but isn't she a peach?" said Donald admiringly.

Douglas burst out laughing. "Do you know who that is?" he asked with a peculiar inflection.

"I told you — a Greek goddess, mount —"

"That's my sister, Janet," interrupted Douglas.

Donald's mouth opened. He stared at his friend. "Your what?" he exploded.

"Oh, I forgot! Poor fellow!" said Douglas, solicitously, as his face assumed a mournful expression. "I'll certainly have to pull my punches hereafter." He leaned toward Donald and placed his lips close to his ear. "S-i-l-e-n-c-e," he spelled slowly, "Does the old bean grasp it?"

"Cut the comedy," growled Donald as he jerked Douglas to the side of the road out of sight of the equestrienne. "Good heavens! Your sister!" he groaned, "and she thinks I am a masquerader."

"Why should she think that of you?"

Donald told him of yesterday's occurrence.

"This is great!" chuckled Douglas. "Come and meet my sister, Donald. I'll tell her that you can't help flirting, and that will fix things up all right. I'll call her." He grinned facetiously.

"Don't you dare! You——" Donald warned.

Douglas avoided Donald's wild clutch, ran to the centre of the road and waved his arm.

"Oh, Janet," he shouted.

Donald shook an angry fist at his tormentor and sprang to the shelter of the trees. There was a thud of hoofs, a spattering of gravel, and the sound of creaking leather.

"What in the world are you doing here in that dress, Doug?" asked Janet.

"Janet," said her brother in a low, mysterious voice, "I've got the fellow that tried to flirt with you yesterday; he's in there." He pointed to the bush.

"The poor fellow is a confirmed flirt; has it in his worst form. I beg of you, Sister, be lenient, be merciful. He thinks you are a Greek goddess." He tapped his forehead significantly.

Donald cursed the irrepressible youth's sense of humor. If he could have reached the humorist at that moment he would have pitched him into the inlet without compunction.

Janet eyed her brother with disapproval. "What are you talking about, Doug? Have you taken leave of your senses entirely?"

"I will bring forth the erring knight for you to censure," rejoined her brother, bowing low in exaggerated deference. "Ho!" he shouted, leave thy woody bower, Sir Don, the goddess awaits thee."

Seething inwardly, Donald tried to appear dignified as he stepped to the road, but the attempt was a dismal failure. How could one approach anything like dignity when dressed in a pair of running trunks, a torn and frayed jersey, socks turned down over a pair of dirty tennis shoes, and without hat or coat? All this added to the fact that he faced a battery of two big brown eyes, who thought him a masquerader. The greatest actor in the world would fail to register dignity under such conditions. He had a confused remembrance of a jumble of words that went for a formal introduction. He felt his face hot, and knew he was blushing furiously, which did not add to his composure.

The girl looked down curiously, but not without interest, at the embarrassed young man.

Donald finally mustered courage to glance up at the face above him. The deep brown eyes regarding him held just a trace of humor. The full red lips were parted to show a flash of white, even teeth.

"It is a pleasure to meet you even under such inauspicious circumstances," stammered Donald. He turned to glance at the grinning cause of his discomfiture. "I would suggest, Miss Rennie, that you have a doctor waiting at your home, as I intend to commit mayhem on the person of your brother as soon as you have gone."

Orange Balls

Soak orange peels three days in cold water changing the water daily; then put in hot water, and boil until soft. Drain, wipe dry with cheese-cloth, chop fine, and measure. Take an equal amount of sugar, and for each one-third of a cup of sugar add two tablespoons each of water and butter, and boil until it will spin a thread, then add the chopped peel, boil about five minutes; cool, put on a board, sprinkle with granulated sugar, and shape into small balls. These may be rolled in coarse sugar, and allowed to dry, or they may be dipped in fondant, flavored with vanilla. They are delicious dipped in chocolate with a few grains of orange sprinkled on the top of each chocolate before it hardens.

Teeth and Health

TOOTH TURNS BLACK

Your white pearly teeth have perhaps excited the admiration of your friends and your pride in them is fairly pardonable.

But one day a tooth that you had been intending to have "fixed" ceased to bother you until by and by you noted with some little alarm that this tooth was quite dark in contrast to its fellows.

Or, perhaps, your dentist because of your neglect found it necessary to remove the pulp from a tooth, following which operation you found with some dismay that it had changed color, and noticeably so.

Now, what has caused it? Contrary to your idea, possibly, a tooth gets its shade, not from the outer enamel covering, which is almost colorless, but from the array of colors in the underlying body of dentine.

As a sequence to pulp death and decomposition, we have a disintegration of the blood elements with the production of pigments or color compounds. These permeate the dentinal structure through its many little tubuli and are reflected through the almost transparent enamel, giving the tooth its shade; this is the principal source of discoloration.

A less frequent cause is from the use of remedial agents employed in tooth treatments, many of which have the property of staining the dental substance.

Now, unfortunately, as you can see, all of the scouring that you may do is of no avail—like the historic spot of "Macbeth"—it will not "out." However, your dentist by employing bleaching agents within the tooth cavity can with fair success restore the shade, if the discoloration has not remained too long.

Message Had Its Effect

Houdini Once Assisted Authorities by Fake "Spirit Message"

Houdini's crusade against fraudulent spirit-mongers occupied a great deal of his time and thought during the last years of his life. But there was a brief period in his early stage career when, assisted by his wife, he used to do a "mind reading" and "spirit-message" act, pure hocus pocus, of course.

One night he was tipped off that two negroes—the local "bad men"—were in the gallery. These men went about armed with razors, and three weeks before one of their pals had been murdered. While no tangible evidence could be raised to fasten the crime on them, the people of the town felt that they were implicated.

When Houdini began to give his "messages," he presently stepped forward with a puzzled, earnest face.

"I have a message here for Bill Doakes and Jim Saunders," he said. "It comes from Benny Carter. He says: 'Yo' boys bettah put yo' razors away, or yo' is sho' goin' ter be where Ah is now.' Are Bill Doakes and Jim Saunders present?"

There was an awed silence, and then, as some one in the gallery upset a chair and stumbled hastily toward the exit a quavering voice replied:

"Yes, dey is, but dey ain't stayin'."

Stage Manager (to new hand) — "Now then, everything's ready Run up the curtain."

Stage-Hand — "Wot yer talkin' about? Run up the curtain? I'm a stage-hand, not a bloomin' squirrel."

Door-Knocker Gave Beethoven Idea for Glorious Concerts

To an ordinary mind it would be scarcely seem possible that much music could be got out of a door-knocker. Yet it was this sound which is said to have inspired Beethoven's glorious violin concerto in D. As the musician lay awake one night shaping the concerto in his mind, his musings were interrupted by a belated neighbor who was endeavoring to arouse his housekeeper and get her to come down and let him in. Beethoven heard his persistent knocking for admission—four slow deliberate knocks at a time. The constant repetition gave the composer the idea he sought and those four knocks are heard all through the opening movement of the concerto, which begins with four unaccompanied D's on the drum—seemingly as unmelodious and unpromising an opening phrase as one could imagine. In commenting upon the circumstances Sir George Grove has said "those four knocks were to Beethoven what the hulk of the old Temeiraire was to Turner, or the daffodils to Wordsworth—commonplace in themselves but transmuted by the fire of genius into an imperishable monument."

Sample of Work on Iron Ferrule Discovered in Ancient City

A method of soldering two pieces of iron together with copper was known to Roman artisans in England nearly two thousand years ago.

Peace Pact Act Of Faith

Effect On Imagination Of World Cannot Be Estimated

The Pact does not automatically turn the world into a Garden of Eden. It does not even take us automatically out of Bedlam, but it gives statesmanship a new start; it gives mankind a new hope. It is like the League of Nations. Anybody can point out the weaknesses of the league, describe its failures, analyze its vices; but the man who does not see that the creation of the league has put man's hope for peace and his nobler ambitions on a new basis is blind to the history of human institutions. The Pact is not a mere act of policy; it is an act of faith. Nobody, therefore, can measure its effect on the imagination of the world.

Many Old Timers
are Mentioned

forgot to mention Frank Daw and Jim Knudson as old timers and all the railway men who befriended me and Scott of the big ranch just west.
Ryan of the station, Pinnocks and McMillan, all come to me at times.

"And Mr. Minister and every worker in the church to you all let me say this, keep working and never get discouraged, sow the seed. It will fall some place and some of it will grow.
Humans are just like colts, you can never tell what the most unlikely "youngster" may come to.

"The old timers will remember Ed
Murray, a care free, devil-may-care boy, seemed heading for nowhere.

After Gleichen days I met him in a wild west show in the city of Guelph, then later I met him in Edmonton in a fire hall and now he is fire chief in the city of Woodstock, a much valued and honored citizen with a heart for for every sorrow of men, and loved by every child on the street, straight forward, honorable, efficient. No you never can tell.

And even at the risk of wearing some I must say that my relations with the railroad men both on the trains and in the round house were most happy. If the preacher could meet them as man meets men he was "in" if he could not he was "out" just as he was with other westerners, no matter how learned or eloquent he might be. They had no respect for "the cloth" as such, only for the man inside it whether it be black or brown or grey.

"Once sitting at Mrs. Finnigan's table the stories got pretty "tall" and after a spell of trying to beat each other in wonders one related the story of a young chap who had swallowed everything that had been brought to him for dinner, even to the knife and fork and spoon—everything but the plate—of course he got the general rad, rah. Yours truly in his innocence spoke up saying "yes that is quite true I knew the fellow, having gone to school with him," and then came "O, the preacher is the biggest liar of the crowd."

"It was true, nevertheless, I saw a photo of the much corroded eating implements after being taken from the boy's stomach when a postmortem was performed when he died some three months later. And he really was a schoolmate.

"But really I must quit, though, in imagination I'm flying over the prairie between Gleichen and the Crowfoot where I used to make the 18 miles in one and a half hours on the back of Emil Griesbach's "Lucy."
Lucy did me some mean tricks, but I guess she is dead now, and one must not speak ill of the dead and I forgive her. But she was a fine pony.
I never quite can forgive a relative of Emil's who once rode her at a race north of the village, for taking the wind out of her with his heels.
O, if I had only had dared to ride Lucy that day I'm sure she would have won.

"Before I quite quit maybe some of those who may still remember me would like a personal word regarding myself. Folks say I don't change much, that may mean of course, that I'm just as poor a preacher as ever.
Anyway the years have dealt kindly with me. I feel as young as ever, and still do a good deal of walking though a car is in the garage. As to most preachers the years have not brought me material wealth. I missed not buying a farm, or taking one for a gift or Walker's the engineer's, when he offered it for $25. But the years have other things besides wealth to offer me now, and one of the best of other things is work and wife and children. I've had lots of work and my wife is the girl whose photo I had with me in the old Gleichen days. I was scarcely worth it but seven long years she waited for me and she is waiting on me still when she does not make me wait on myself. We have

Hon. James Malcolm Talks to Cardiff Over Trans-Atlantic Phone

Ottawa, Ont.—Ten thousand people who thronged the grounds of the Cardiff Empire Exhibition, in Wales, and many thousands more throughout the British Isles, heard Hon. James Malcolm, minister of trade and commerce, speak to them from Ottawa over the trans-Atlantic telephone.

"Simply marvellous reception," the word came back from Cardiff, as soon as the minister had finished his eight minute address. "The best yet."

Mr. Malcolm's office in the parliament buildings was the Ottawa "call station."

Mr. Malcolm introduced his brief address by expressing the regards of the Canadian people to the people of Wales, and declared that the ideal of empire trade for which the exhibition stands was finding strong and patriotic support in this country. The minister voiced a word of praise for the empire marketing board. Trade, he said, was only a medium through which the people of the empire became acquainted and through which were learned the difficulties and viewpoints of the various units. To know one's self was essential, to know one's country was a patriotic duty; to know the empire was a great and profitable advantage.

The minister made passing reference to the arrival in Canada of the prime minister from his lengthy sojourn abroad, and expressed Mr. Mackenzie King's thanks for the reception tendered him in Great Britain.

"The question of inter-imperial migration has been much to the fore in recent months," said Mr. Malcolm. "While calling your attention to the speech delivered by our prime minister recently, in London, in the course of which he declared that Canada welcomed British emigrants, may I say that British North America has in recent years been receiving as many British emigrants as are going to all other empire countries."

The return movement is relatively small, indicating that the great bulk of those who come to us are satisfied with their welcome and with the opportunities which Canada affords—opportunities which have never been greater than today. In the year 1922 we received and welcomed 627 Welsh emigrants; this year we are receiving over 500 every month. If an inter-empire problem exists on the question of migration, may I say for the government and the people of Canada that none are more welcome in this Dominion than the sons and daughters of the British Isles."

The minister concluded with a reference to the Prince of Wales, whom Canada claimed as "a landed proprietor and taxpayer of this Dominion." His Royal Highness was the great ambassador of the empire, representative of all our common traditions, common history and common ideals for a United Empire. The Prince of Wales was a joint possession.

Mr. Malcolm closed with a wish that the Cardiff Empire Exhibition might meet with unprecedented success.

Eliminating Crow Pest

Campaign in Saskatchewan This Year Was Highly Successful

Regina.—The crow and magpie population of the province has been decreased by more than 1,000,000 as a result of the activities of 4,230 contestants for the 1,500 prizes offered by the Provincial Department of Railways, Labor and Industries in the 1923 crow campaign, according to the report in the Public Service monthly issued for last month.

"The success of the competition may be gauged by the results which show that 465,953 legs, and 681,716 eggs were collected. Actually, therefore, the enemy suffered a total loss of 814,692 before hostilities closed September 1."

Cities May Have Own Aerodrome

London, Eng.—An aerodrome in every city in Britain is the program put forward by the air ministry. Realization of the program depends on the city councils finding the money and therefore it will not be immediate. Manchester and Nottingham have already purchased land for aerodromes and Leeds, Hull and Liverpool are expected soon to follow their example.

Famine Stalks In China

Babies Being Killed On Account Of Lack Of Food

Shanghai, China.—The China international famine relief is being flooded with appeals from the stricken districts, particularly in Shansi, where, it is declared, "babies are being killed because there is nothing to feed them with and children are being sold for a mere song."

"Thousands of persons are said to be living on the bark and leaves of trees. In addition to Shansi the famine includes districts in Kwangsi, Suifu, Hupeh, Hunan and Honan. A magistrate of Yang Hsien in a letter estimates that there are 200,000 famine sufferers, owing to the drought and the devastations of the 'Red Spears' a guerilla organization. The situation in Shansi, the magistrate declares, is unprecedented, children being sold openly in the market by parents eager for cash. In Hunan thousands are on the verge of starvation, due to the banditry, communist uprisings, the Red Spears and drought."

Serious Famine In Russia

Mobs In Moscow Are Openly Denouncing The Government

London, Eng.—Soviet Russia is in the throes of a famine which is reaching serious proportions, according to reports from Helsingfors and Riga received by the Exchange Telegraph Company here.

Mounted police are patrolling Moscow and dispersing near-violent mobs whose leaders openly denounce the government, the Helsingfors report stated.

Foreign legations in Moscow are perturbed over the seriousness of the situation, although some, it is said, are disposed to welcome it because it affords them a legitimate reason for leaving.

In Leningrad similar scenes were enacted, according to the Riga report. There 750 women and children, after waiting in a bread line all night, were given apples. Angered, they used the apples to bombard the windows of food stores and threatened to lynch the food distributors. A large number were arrested and later released.

Brilliant Meteoric Display Predicted

Shooting Stars Will Be Seen From November 10 To 17

Montreal.—Meteoric displays of striking brightness are predicted to occur for a period lasting from Nov. 10 to 17 inclusive, according to an announcement from Harvard College University, received at McGill, by Prof. A. Vibert Douglas, lecturer in physics and secretary of the Montreal centre of the Royal Astronomical Society of Canada.

These displays, commonly known as shooting stars, will be seen in the northern sky south of the constellation of the Great Bear, better known as the Dipper. The shooting stars will be best observed after midnight until four o'clock in the morning, and will be seen as bright flashes across the sky.

Remain In Canada

5,000 British Harvesters Still Remaining In Canada

Ottawa.—With harvesting operations completed in the west and with 5,000 British harvesters still remaining in Canada, it is probable that the majority will become permanently established, department of immigration officials stated today. Reports from steamship companies to the department indicate that approximately 3,500 have returned to the British Isles.

From the fact that very few of the harvesters have applied at government employment bureau officials of the labor department believe that in the majority of cases they have found permanent work on western farms.

GRAF ZEPPELIN LANDS SAFELY IN HOME PORT

Friedrichshafen, Germany.—Completing the first round-trip commercial trans-Atlantic flight, the Graf Zeppelin landed at the aerodrome here with passengers and mail from America.

The airship, coming from Lakehurst, N.J., made the fastest crossing of the Atlantic by a lighter-than-air machine, covering a distance of 4,003 miles.

Since leaving Friedrichshafen on the morning of October 11, the Graf Zeppelin had flown approximately 10,000 miles. Going by the southern route on the westward flight, she flew 6,000 miles in 111 hours and 33 minutes.

The Graf Zeppelin arrived over her home port just 63 hours and 56 minutes from the start of her flight.

The airship thus established a new record for eastward flight by a dirigible across the Atlantic. The British dirigible R-34, in 1910, made the only previous eastward flight from Roosevelt Field to England in 75 hours.

It was revealed that the Zeppelin encountered heavy storms while flying over central France forcing Dr. Eckener to alter his course considerably, missing Paris. The speed also was reduced to less than 50 miles an hour.

With the approach of the dirigible the population of the town, swelled many times its normal size, was aroused by volleys of saluting shots. The people rushed pell-mell to the aerodrome where the crews of the Zeppelin works were already assembled at the hangar. It was raining but there was no wind.

The airship, after allowing the cheering thousands a brief glimpse of her great form, rapidly passed out of sight and then reappeared a little later over Lake Constance. Throughout the town the church bells were ringing frantically and a cannonade of saluting shots was being fired constantly. Numerous searchlights played upon the silvery sides of the dirigible as it passed over the town.

A CASTLE IN IRELAND

Princess Mary and Lord Lascelles are shown above at the doorway of their Portumna castle, in Ireland, where they were accorded a royal welcome upon their recent visit. Shortly before their arrival the stables of the castle were set afire, apparently by a fanatic, but Lord Lascelles requested that no punishment be meted out to the culprit.

Dr. Henry Marshall Tory, president of the national research council of Canada, who forecasts that at a gathering of bacteriologists in Ottawa, in the early winter an important announcement will be made concerning mankind's age-long fight against tuberculosis in animals, one of the deadliest scourges known, and one generally conceded the cause of a great deal of tuberculosis in human beings.

Newfoundland Elections

Latest Returns Show That Government Has Been Defeated

St. John's, Nfld.—The opposition party of Sir Richard Squires overthrew the government of Hon. F. C. Alderdice in the general elections here. He became known when the results from twenty-nine of the thirty-seven districts had been received.

The election of the opposition candidates in St. John's City West and one opposition member in Burin West was conceded, in the latest returns, while two seats in St. John's City East, and one in Burin East, were conceded to the government.

The opposition party has now secured twenty-three of a total of forty seats and nine government supporters have been returned. Both Sir Richard Squires and Hon. F. C. Alderdice were elected. Sir Richard ran in Humber while Premier Alderdice contested St. John's City East.

Contractors Supply Stills For Workmen

Innovation Of Toronto Firm To Eliminate Costly Scaffolding
Toronto.—As an innovation in the building trade, a firm of Toronto contractors provided six-foot stilts for their workmen. The plan was to do away with costly scaffolding.

Surprised and indignant at the plan, two workmen refused to don the stilts and reported to officials of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners that they lost their jobs as a result.

William Varley secretary of the Building Trades Council, is investigating to discover whether the use of stilts would be a contravention of city or provincial statutes.

Saskatchewan Leads In Grain Shipments

Peak Of Movement Passed In First Three Months Of Crop Year

Winnipeg.—"Fully 65 per cent. of the crop has been marketed since estimates have run around 530,000,000 bushels, and the railways have received 304 million bushels to date," is the report of J. G. Sutherland, superintendent of transportation for the Canadian Pacific.

"Saskatchewan is in the lead with 86,376,165 bushels dumped into elevator bins on Canadian Pacific lines, 79,073,723 bushels being wheat.

Manitoba has 35,144,225 bushels of all grains, including 19,530,015 bushels of wheat.

Alberta's marketings to date are 66,958,306 bushels all grains, 53,192,660 of which are wheat.

With such figures as proof, Mr. Sutherland holds the opinion that the peak of the movement has been passed in these first three months of the crop year.

Stricken With Bovine Disease

Trouble Common In Cattle No Attacks Human Beings

Chatham, Ont.—That a Dover Township man had been infected with bacillus abortus, a disease common in cattle but previously unknown to human beings, was made known at a meeting of the Kent County Medical Association here.

The case was discovered by Dr. James Moriarty, of this city. His patient was a young man of 23, who went to him in August for treatment. He had all the symptoms of typhoid fever, but various blood tests were negative.

During September and the early part of October, the man's temperature varied from 99 to 103. He grew emaciated and suffered loss of appetite, headaches, pains in the joints and frequent nose-bleeds. Finally a blood test revealed the disease.

WILL GIVE AID TO SETTLERS FROM THE BRITISH ISLES

Ottawa.—Important announcements in regard to an increase, in British assisted immigration are almost certain to follow the tour of Hon. Robert Forke, Minister of Immigration, through the western provinces.

Mr. Forke has just returned and in the course of this trip interviewed the Premiers of Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia in their respective capitals. He went thoroughly into the various policies now being advanced by his department singly and in co-operation with the British Government, and, wherever possible, invited their active assistance.

The kind of assistance which the provinces may give is various. They may assist the Federal department in checking up the bona fides of persons within their boundaries who apply to Ottawa for aid in bringing their families out from Britain, or they may enter actively into a scheme of settlement and bear a part of the financial burden.

Mr. Forke had little to say of his trip, except that the Premiers had been much interested in immigration problems and had promised to give the most careful consideration to the many suggestions which he had made.

There is ample time for such consideration since all the settlement work is done in the spring and early summer months, and, provided the Federal Department knows now much assistance it may expect from a province by the new year, the task of arranging for the movement of the settlers can be performed.

It would appear that the provinces were more interested in boy settlement than in the policies for older persons, and it is in this field that important announcements may be made.

Mr. Forke, it is understood, put forward a proposal whereby all boys brought out and placed on provincial training farms should be assisted to start up as farmers, provided they could save $500 out of their earnings. In this event the British and Canadian governments would put up $2,250, and would ask the provinces to advance 0250 which, coupled with the boys' savings, would make a fund of $3,000 which is considered to be ample to begin farming.

It is probable that the response of the provinces to this scheme will be enthusiastic and that a very big movement of boys will be inaugurated next year.

Commission May Probe Grain Trade

Alleged Grain Mixing At Terminals Is Causing Dissatisfaction As To Grade

Regina.—Appointment of a commission to investigate the grain trade and secure the facts regarding the effect of the mixing of grain at the terminals is planned by the Saskatchewan Government, Premier J. G. Gardiner has announced.

"In view of the widespread dissatisfaction with the grading of wheat and the repeated reports to the effect that mixing at terminals has resulted in the lowering of the standard of the Canadian wheat certificate in Europe," said Premier Gardiner, "the Saskatchewan Government is considering the appointment of a commission to conduct a thorough investigation into the grain trade."

The crime took place last June, in the Eastend District where McGill worked as a farm hand. No hope of mercy for the condemned man was held out by Mr. Justice H. V. Bigelow.

Explanations and Comments

A Call To Consecration For Service, verses 1 and 2.—The meaning of these two long verses has been aptly expressed in these brief words: In view of all that God has done for us, we should henceforth live for him. The One Volume Commentary paraphrases the verses thus: God's redeeming love should be answered by the true sacrifice and spiritual, ritual service of a life of purity and self-denial and work for God. Do not follow the fashion and customs of the worldly society around you, but let your ways of thinking be so changed by the Holy Spirit that you look for and recognize God's will and love to do it.

"Present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable to God." "No maimed or crippled thing might be offered to God by the Jewish law. If we would devote ourselves to God, we must see to it that we have a self to devote. Self-consecration is not a negative thing; it is a very positive thing. Even our Lord said in His high-priestly prayer: 'For their sakes I consecrate myself.' Self-consecration is the most effective way in which we can serve God in our generation. That is the way in which the torch has been handed down by a long succession of runners since the Gospel of Christ came into the world. Ask yourselves how you have been helped by others. You will find, I think, that the occasions have been most trivial, that the words spoken and the things done have been slight and unpremeditated. They have been sidelights upon the person's character, peeps into the inner life of one whose mind is kept in perfect peace because it rests on God; of one who sees God because his heart is pure. It is the sudden sting of self-reproach, the shame of the contrast, the longing to be like such a one, that sends a man to his knees as soon as he is alone. Sometimes when such a man or woman dies we learn for the first time, not without surprise, what he or she has been to many. Such persons have laid up a rich store of gratitude for being what God has helped them to be."—L. V. Inge.

London, Eng.—Labor leaders are elated over gains made in the municipal elections in the cities and towns throughout England. Incomplete returns indicate that Labor candidates have made a net gain of 101 seats on municipal councils outside of London while their principal opponents registered a loss of 71, and independents a loss of 31.

Results of the elections created exceptional interest this year, some leaders professing to believe that the vote would indicate in some degree what could be expected at the general elections throughout the country next year.

Labor gains, partial returns indicated, were made largely at the expense of Conservatives. At Twickenham the Labor party gained three seats from Conservatives. Twickenham is the parliamentary constituency of Right Hon. William Joynson-Hicks, home secretary.

A feature of the elections in London was the candidature of 450 women as compared with 343 who stood for office in 1925.

The 1925 elections resulted in the return of 140 of the women candidates. While returns from the elections are far from complete it is known that a number of the women headed the polls in their districts. Seven women have been elected to the municipal council of the borough of Poplar. The 21-year-old daughter of the mayor of Fulham was elected.

Unemployed men ran for office in a number of the boroughs and this type of candidate fared worst at Southwark and Shoreditch. Three Communist candidates at Deptford were badly beaten. The mayor of Bermondsey was defeated in his own division.

Armistice Day Letters

Two Million Letters Sent To America From France

La Havre, France.—Two million letters, the largest mailing ever sent from France, have started to America on the French steamer Rochambeau. They are timed for delivery to American women about Armistice Day.

These letters, although advertising matter, have been turned to propaganda uses. They have been addressed by hand by French war widows and are sealed. The idea is that American women getting a letter from France on Armistice Day will think of the country where many sent their sons or husbands to war.

McLatchey, New Glasgow, N.S., holds the ticket on Insight II, placing third. McLatchey will get $5,900, the amount of the third prize.

Paying Visit To Ottawa

Ottawa.—Word has been received here that Sir Esme Howard, British ambassador to the United States, and Lady Isabella Howard, will be the guests in Ottawa on Armistice Day, November 11. In all probability this will be the last visit of this distinguished diplomat to the capital as an official of the British Government for the reason that his tenure of office will expire within another year, when he reaches the age limit of British civil servants.

(173) More than 20,000 acres of Indian lands, which include some of the best agricultural areas in the Peace River district, are likely to be sold at auction in the near future. This action will in all probability follow a survey that is being made in the north country by W. Morrison, Inspector of Indian Agencies for the three western provinces, with headquarters at Regina.

A new industry—badger farming—may be started in Saskatchewan by John Rothenberger, farmer, of Vanguard. Last spring Mr. Rothenberger caught a badger and four pups. He built a large pen, about 15 feet long and 4 feet wide. During summer he fed the badgers until they are now quite tame, and are said to be larger than any badger running wild. Their coats are in excellent condition and of a fine of $18 for each skin have been received.

A new world record was set by the Canadian Pacific Railway recently when a train of grain more than a mile in length was operated between Stoughton and Arcola, in Saskatchewan. It was the longest and heaviest grain train in history, consisting of 135 loaded grain cars, each approximately 40 feet in length, a water car, a caboose and engine. The gross weight was 8,722 tons and the total contents of the cars were 202,000 bushels of grain.

Rev. Thomas Powell, D. D., superintendent of missions for the southern part of Alberta, conference of the United Church of Canada, was a visitor at the Manor over the week end. The reverend gentleman occupied the pulpit in the United Church on Sunday evening. The church was tastefully decorated for Thanksgiving. The choir rendered a pleasing anthem. Dr. Powell took for his text "We Would see Jesus." He lamented the fact that the Church had taken so much time in teaching creeds and doctrine instead of telling what they knew of Jesus whom they had seen. He urged upon his hearers the responsibility that rested upon those who had seen Jesus. Dr. Powell left on the early train on Monday for Bentley where he was expected to deliver a lecture.

People Like to Trade

In a live store where everything goes with a swing; buying and selling always going on with enthusiasm; when a spirit of glad to see you is uppermost, and when they get thrown in a live and interesting service. That's Ramsay's Live Store of Gleichen, and represents a reason or two why we have the people.

Values count also and for the balance of November we are making man sized efforts to unload our winter goods. There is going to be some winter and July clothing will not pan out for December.

BOYS OVERCOATS

We have received a late shipment, which should have been refused on account of late arrival, but we put into stock and have some prices that have all corners knocked out on overcoats. Sizes 26 to 34.

Men's Blue Chincilla Overcoats at$22.50
Chamois lined. See them.

Heavy underwear for men and boys and an unusual fine showing of ladies winter weights in underwear in pure wools, silk and wool and mixtures.

Felt shoes are here also when you need them, and overshoes. We have enough to supply Alberta if this weather keeps up. But watch out, winter is coming.

Rugs for the floor, and linoleum. We are having an unusual run on these during the past few weeks. How about a new rug?

Holiday Groceries

This week end our whole Grocery Department will be on the boards with a special line of tempting groceries, all the little touches required for the extra cooking getting ready for the holidays, will be on deck.

You will go far before you find anything quite so attractive as our Live Grocery Department, and one of its beauties, clear of our good looking staff, is that our prices are right.

Yours for fall demands,
